September 10th, 1914

Professor McGregor Young,

Toronto.

Dear Professor Young:

On my return I find your two letters of August 1 and 19. I should like to have a conversation with you with regard to the matter as I have already spoken to Professor Mavor. He may perhaps see you and after that we could arrange for a meeting at your convenience.

Yours very sincerely,

President.

Dear Professor Young:

Yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Governors your resignation of the chair of Constitutional Law was accepted, according to your own request. The Governors are glad also to accept your offer of delivering a course of lectures on International Law for which they will offer the sum of four hundred dollars.

In speaking with you yesterday I overlooked the fact, which was brought to my attention at the Board meeting that the academic year closes on the 30th of June, and that your resignation will take effect from the first of July. The Bursar informs me that he had already paid three instalments of the salary for this year. That will nearly cover the amount that would be due for the course of lectures. I feel that I ought to write you at once in the matter so that there may be no misunderstanding at the end of the term.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Mr. President:-

I am obliged by your letter of the 25th advising me that my resignation and the incidental arrangement made with you had received the approval of the governors.

The balance of your letter is rather an unpleasant surprise. When I resigned from the Law School my salary, under similar conditions, was paid without any question until the 1st of October, and in any case my own impression is that under the different arrangements that have been made my salary for the academical year is not paid until that month. The ~~Bursar~~ might kindly look into it and you can advise me of the result at your convenience. I shall settle a schedule with the class for my course of lectures early next week.

Yours very truly,

Y/EM.

Dear Professor Young:

I referred your letter to the Bursar and he has given me the memorandum which I enclose. This memorandum seems to me to support his contention that the academic year in your case closes on June 30th. I am sorry that I did not know earlier about this matter.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Mr. Young:

I have your letter which I shall send to the Bursar. In all probability he will place the $375 to your credit.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
